KEEP OUT OF THE WAY

Hair breadth escapes! One team wrecked; one "Kiddie" hit, was the result of the false alarm on Tuesday. Private autos rushing to the fire were the cause. The firemen with their apparatus were held up. How can the problem be solved is just now puzzling Chief Woods and Chief of Police Hurley. It is up to our people.

MORE PRAISE FOR FINE WORK AT NAVY YARD

Inspection Board Throws Few More Bouquets on Submarine Construction.

The navy official Board of Inspection and Survey has handed out another complimentary statement in favor of the Portsmouth Navy Yard. This board, which seldom is heard from in the matter of throwing bouquets, has just finished inspecting the submarine S-9, built at the local yard, and has also watched the action of the craft during the several trial trips off Provincetown. The local yard is given great credit for entire workmanship in every detail in connection with her construction. The board also compliments the station on the excellent results obtained during the numerous shake-down tests on the official course. It has been known for some time that the Portsmouth Yard has been to the front on all construction work, especially that of the submarines. However, it is especially gratifying to hear such compliments from a board which is considered a very important body of men in the Navy Department.

GERMANS HOPE ALLIES WILL GRANT NEW PROPOSALS

Secretary Hughes Discusses Note With Representatives of Foreign Powers

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 27.—Secretary Hughes continued his study today of the German reparation counter proposals to determine the course he will recommend to President Harding for the United States to take toward them. In conferences with diplomatic representatives of the powers yesterday the Secretary is understood to have discussed the proposals.

Berlin, April 27.—The Berlin newspapers with the exemption of the Extreme Conservative organ expressed hope that the reparations proposals will at least form the basis for a new negotiations which will preclude the occupation of further German territory and the application of additional penalties after May 1st.

Paris, April 27.—Germany's reparations proposals are still being considered by Premier Briand and it is probable a decision will not be reached before this evening. When such decision is reached it will be communicated first to the United States government. Officials here were reticent this morning regarding the German proposals but in political circles close to the premier there was a belief that the Ruhr district of Germany would be occupied immediately after May 1st.

London, April 27.—Consideration should be given the German reparation proposal by the Allies, said the daily news today in discussing the terms of the Berlin government as published here. The newspaper expressed the opinion that the German note was not clear but added "on the face of this they are not terms which the American government is likely to dismiss as unworthy of discussion."

CHARGED WITH BRUTAL MURDER OF OLD RECLUSE

Cote Arrested in Case of Russian Slain in Yard of Home in Hill, N. H.

Ashland, N. H., April 27.—Fred Cote was arrested at Holderness yesterday afternoon, charged with the murder of George K. Brown, aged recluse, at Hill on or about April 10. In a 2-hour statement made to a justice of the peace before he was delivered to the custody of the Merrimack county officers he declared that he was entirely innocent of the crime. He was held, however, and taken to Concord.

Brown, a Russian woodchopper and farmer, was found dead in the yard of his home at Hill on the morning of April 15. He had been dead for nearly a week, according to the medical findings. Robbery was the apparent motive and county officers who searched the lonely farm discovered a cache in the stone and cement wall of the cellar where Brown was supposed to have kept his savings, but there was no money there.

T team of horses was found tied to the wheels of a farm wagon and from their appearance and the fact that they had gnawed the hames of each other's harness and the wood of the wagon-pole and wheels it was believed they had been tied together for nearly a week.

The old man lived alone and supported himself by chopping wood and collecting junk. He was reputed to be worth a considerable sum and to have kept his money hidden in a compartment built into the foundation of his house.

Plymouth County Official Arrested for Contempt of Court for Refusal to Obey Writ of Habeas Corpus

(By Associated Press)

Boston, April 27.—Sheriff Earl P. Blake of Plymouth County was adjudged in contempt of court for refusal to obey a writ of habeas corpus ordering him to produce Charles Ponzi of quick rich fame for trial in the state court. Judge Sessanden of the Superior Court after ordering the sheriff into custody for contempt permitted him to leave with his counsel to seek relief in the federal court. Sheriff Blake maintained that under the constitution and clause of the United States he had no right to surrender a federal prisoner to a state court. U. S. Attorney Robert Harris said that he had received a communication from Attorney General Daugherty at Washington instructing him to order Sheriff Blake to bring Ponzi to Boston.

SEAMEN UNION MEMBERS TO STRIKE MAY 1

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 27.—In an effort to avert the threatened strike of marine workers set for May 1st chairman Benson of the Shipping Board had here today representatives of these workers and the owners and operators of American steamships for a conference which was called by the chairman after negotiations in New York between the owners and some of the marine unions had resulted in a break and a call had been issued by the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association for a strike May 1st, when existing agreements expire. The International Seamens' Union which according to its president voted not to accept wage reductions issued no formal call for a strike.

A sharp difference in opinion as to wage reduction between Chairman Benson of the Shipping Board and spokesman for the marine workers developed at the opening today of conference called by the chairman in an effort to avert a threatened strike on American steamers on May 1st. Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamens' Union and other spokesmen for the workers declared that a 15 percent wage reduction declared by Rear Admiral Benson to be necessary was unacceptable to the union.

MANY MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE BEFORE COUNCIL

Resignations of State School Chiefs May Be Considered at Session Today.

Concord, April 27.—What is expected to prove one of the most important meetings of the spring of the governor and council will be held today at the state house.

First in importance of the matters expected to be brought before the body is the action on the resignations of the four members of the state board of education. It is believed in capitol circles that prompt disposal of the problem will be made, since if the old members of the board are not to remain, new members must be appointed promptly so that the affairs of the board under the law may be taken up at once.

Several names have been mentioned in the way of possible appointments to the board, but no hint has been given on the plans of the governor. It is forecast here, however, that one of the new board will be a woman.

Another matter of first importance at this time is the expected action in regard to observance of the standard time law by the railroads, which put their trains on a schedule to conform with daylight saving in Massachusetts. The question of putting the problem up to the supreme court is now under advisement by the attorney general. Previously Governor Brown had stated that some relief ought to be afforded the people.

The naming of three factory inspectors in addition to those now serving, one of whom is to be a woman, also may come up at the meeting. There are several candidates, particularly for the place of the woman on the list, one being put forward by the Central Labor Union of Manchester. State Labor Commissioner John S. B. Davie has the appointment of the inspectors, subject to the approval of the governor and council.

Several routine matters also are expected to be brought before the council meeting.

PEPPERRELL COVE

Pepperrell Cove, April 27.—Whom will the Liberty Bridge flirt with? The belle of the ocean, the beauties of the city and the little Eddie.

What are the three best known ways of getting news throughout the country? Telephone, telegraph and tell a woman.

Last week New York city had an exhibition of miniature ships. We have had a collection of 50 models of the ships that made Portsmouth famous and do not get excited as New York did over their fair collection. They had one model that cost $25,000 to make—the sovereign of the Seas. Few know this ship cost Charles I of England his crown and head. Charles I built the Sovereign of the Seas in 1637 in reply to Louis XIII. She was to have cost 13,000 pounds but she cost [illegible],000 pounds. Charles I did not call a Parliament to get an appropriation but went ahead and built the ship and England instead of paying the debt, beheaded her King. So the rivalry of the greatest navy goes on today as it did 300 years ago. Collecting of ship models is one of today's latest fads.

Donald McKay of Boston left his models to a niece and they were used for fire wood. Among those destroyed were those of the Flying cloud, Lightning, Nightingale, another sovereign of the seas, Great Republic. Were these models in existence today they would be invaluable. Only 30 steamers as fast as the clipper ships 60 years after their record shows the models perpetuate traditions of famous clippers and other Yankee triumphs. We cherish our models and are proud of our ship records. They whitened every sea with the sails of our ships; Portsmouth built the ships that were the aristocrat of the sea—the envy of every nation—the pride of every port of the world.

WHAT A TONIC DOES FOR YOU

AND WHY YOU NEED IT, IN SO MANY INSTANCES WHEN YOU ARE RUN DOWN, NERVOUS OR HAVE HAD TO ENDURE GREAT STRAIN OR WORRY OF ANY KIND.

A tonic is something which puts tone, energy, strength and endurance into you. It gives a push to your heart, making it pump the blood over your body more vigorously; it makes your lungs expand more fully and thereby take up more strength-giving oxygen from the air you breathe; it makes your kidneys work better and carry off the poisons which would otherwise accumulate in the body; it makes your digestive apparatus perform its work better and give your blood the material it needs for feeding and sustaining your body; it makes your brain act more vigorously and enables you to think more accurately and for longer periods without fatigue, thus bringing you greater success in whatever business, profession or undertaking you are engaged.

When you are rundown, nervous, half sick, down-hearted and about ready to give up, experience of many years has shown that one of the best remedies to pull you out of this bad predicament is good old organic iron. But be sure the iron you take is organic iron, the kind that is found in plants, and not metallic iron which people usually take. Organic iron may be had from your druggist under the name of Nuxated Iron. It often increases the strength, energy and endurance of weak, nervous, tired out folks in two weeks' time. Beware of substitutes. Always look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.

GOVERNOR BAXTER OF MAINE PROCLAIMS ARBOR DAY

Augusta, Me., April 27.—In his Arbor Day Proclamation, Governor Baxter says in part:

"Arbor Day has a special significance for the state of Maine. Over 15,000,000 acres of all the land in the state, out of the total of 19,132,800 acres, are covered with trees. These vast areas once were the property of our state. This great inheritance was squandered by our forefathers and Maine today owns but a few thousand acres of forest, from which most of the timber has been sold.

"The people of Maine, its men, women and children, should take an interest in trees, and should study and plant them. Trees are blessings, beautiful to look upon, and useful to man, to birds and to beasts. May the day come when, for both sentimental reasons and practical reasons, every city, town and village shall line its streets with shade trees, shall buy land for recreation and shall own public woodlots.

"Our State of Maine once again should begin to acquire land for reforestation, that future generations may be supplied with timber, and that Maine may continue to be known as the Pine Tree State."

May 11 is set aside for Arbor Day.

U. S. TO BE GUIDED BY THE ALLIES

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 27—Events here today indicated clearly that the U. THE U. S. NOBBY TREAD

Where the going is specially heavy with snow, mud or sand, in hilly country where maximum traction on the road is a factor, no other tire tread yet devised is quite so effective, or so wholly approved by motoring opinion, as the U. S. Nobby Tread.

Its very simplicity—two diagonal rows of oblong studs, interlocking in their grip on the road—is the result of all the years of U. S. Rubber experience with every type of road the world over.

ALONG about this time of year a man finds his motoring neighbors getting anxious about their tires. With folks expecting old tires to "pop" any minute, there comes the question of what kind of new ones to buy.

U. S. Tires are answering a lot of questions like this nowadays.

* * *

The U. S. Tire following embraces two kinds of tire buyers.

Those who started with quality first, and have never bought anything else but the quality standard tire.

Those who came to quality first only after dabbling with "bargains," "rebates," "job lot" and "surplus stock" tires.

* * *

Getting one hundred cents value on the dollar in tire buying is a straight-forward business proposition—not guess-work or a game of wits.

The most essential man for you to know today is the local U. S. Tire dealer who is concentrating on a full, completely sized line of U. S. Tires.

He gets his U. S. Tires straight from his neighboring U. S. Tire Factory Branch—one of 92 such Branches established and maintained all over the country by the U. S. Tire makers.

* * *

He is the man who can give you fresh, live tires—not stuff shipped to him from some point where it did not sell, but new tires of current production.

Giving the same quality, selection and price-advantage to the owner of the medium weight car as the big car owner gets. With equal service and buying opportunity whether he lives in the smaller localities or the greater centers of population.

"The most essential man for you to know today in the tire business is your local U. S. Tire Dealer."

FLEET'S WORK TO BE RECORDED BY PICTURES

Washington, April 27—Secretary Denby today asked congress to appropriate the sum of $25,000 to be used in historical pictorial record of the American fleet in foreign waters during the World war. If it is secured, [illegible], an artist, will be engaged to make the pictures. Secretary Denby said that the wonderful performance of our navy during the late war can in no way be better depicted than in pictures that may be preserved for future generations.

FRANCE IS READY TO TAKE OVER RHUR

(By Associated Press)

Paris, April 27—The Chamber of Deputies today gave Premier Briand full liberty of action after hearing his report on the reparation and his declaration that if on May 1st satisfactory answer with acceptable guarantee is not made by Germany, the Rhur district will be occupied.

The chamber by a vote of 429 to 17 gave the Premier a vote of confidence. M. Briand said that he had full confidence that if the United States decided to transmit the German proposals, that they would be such as to safeguard the allies. There was one thing Germany had fallen to do and must do and that is disarm.

PRICE CUTTING CONTINUES

New York, April 26—The price war of sugar refiners continues with repeated reductions in prices of granulated. The American Sugar Refining Company cut its price today to seven cents a pound, which means 6.86 cents net for cash within seven days. The Federal went a notch better and quoted 6.75 cents a pound or 6.615 cents net. Other refineries followed, their prices varying from 7 to 7.35 cents a pound.

There was renewed pressure to sell raw sugar with large stocks accumulating in Cuba and large offerings from Porto Rico, Demerara, Peru and Brazil and a large stock of Philippine sugar soon to come upon the market. Near futures on raws are quoted well below four cents, 6 to 15 points below Monday's close.

The Revere Company in Boston announced a cut to seven cents a pound this morning, with the customary 2 per cent for cash in seven days.

Criticism by a Friendly Foreigner.

Viscount Bryce of England, author of The American Commonwealth and of Modern Democracy, is a man of wide experience in public matters and exceptional knowledge of governmental affairs. He is well known in this country, where for some time he was the official representative of the British government, and he justly stands high in the estimation of the people of two continents.

In his latest book, Modern Democracy, Mr. Bryce points out what strikes him as some of the defects of the American system, in a perfectly friendly spirit and not as a carping critic. Among his criticisms are that state legislatures do not enjoy the confidence of the people and that Congress is below the level of what might be expected of it; that the civil service is, with some exceptions, inadequate to its tasks; that the state judiciary is in many cases inferior to the better part of the bar that practices before it; that "criminal justice is slow, uncertain, and often allows the culprit to go unpunished;" that the laws in some states are so imperfectly enforced as to fail to afford proper security to personal and property rights; that "the government of cities is wasteful and corrupt"; that party organizations, democratic in theory and outward form, have become a selfish rule by the few; that the tone of public life and the sense that public service is an honorable public trust are not what they should be; that the power of wealth in our politics has been formidable, and that the number of public men of first-rate ability is less than it should be in a country where there is so much talent of the first class.

While some may be inclined to resent criticism of American affairs by an outsider, it will have to be admitted that there is solid foundation for at least some of the criticisms offered by Mr. Bryce. What he has to say of criminal justice is true. It is "slow, uncertain and often allows the culprit to go unpunished." Few will dispute his statement that the government of cities is wasteful, and it must be admitted that in many cases it is also corrupt.

What Mr. Bryce has to say of the standing of state legislatures and of Congress is true to some extent, and this is due party to the fact that government under the forms of democracy sometimes becomes "rule by the selfish few," and to the fact that too many voters are guided by wrong ideas when casting their ballots. Too many are swayed by personal likes and dislikes instead of a careful study of the qualifications of the candidates. Yet in spite of this most of the members of legislatures and of Congress are men who stand well at home. They are men of recognized character and at least good average ability, but when bunched in legislative bodies they do many things which it is safe to say none of them would do as individuals.

But when all is said and done the faults of our government, local, state and national—and it is not to be denied that there are many of them—are to be attributed primarily to the people. Carelessness in the selection of officials and indifference as to what they do when placed in office are habits altogether too prevalent in this country. The fact is that under a government by the people, the people have duties and obligations beyond the mere matter of voting. They must know what their representatives are doing and hold them to the line if the best results are to be attained, and until they learn to do this the faults pointed out by our English critic may be expected to continue and increase.

Some think "Big Bill" Haywood of the I. W. W. is in Russia, while others are of the opinion that he is skulking in this country and preparing to make trouble on May Day. The only certainty in the premises is that he is not in the penitentiary where he belongs, and it is no credit to the government that he is not there.

Georges Carpentier, the French champion, who is to meet Jack Dempsey at Jersey City in the course of the season, thinks it will not take more than four rounds to decide the heavy-weight championship of the world. His confidence in Dempsey surpasses that of the American's warmest admirers.

It was the proud distinction of Postmaster E. A. Plummer of Raymond, Me., who died a few days ago at the age of 86 years, that he was appointed by President Lincoln and served continuously to the time of his death. It was a remarkable connection of the present with the past.

A bill has been introduced in Congress to make The Star Spangled Banner the national anthem. The great majority of the people were surprised to learn that any formal action was necessary to that end.

The "Imperial German Government" in calling upon President Harding to act as umpire in the reparations controversy seems to have overlooked the fact that there has been an election in the United States since "those other days."

The National Association of Cotton Manufacturers favors the open shop, with employe representation in the management. But it is hardly to be expected that this program will be accepted without question by the unions.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Elastic Mr. Gompers

(From the Brooklyn Eagle Dem.)

The Massachusetts congressman who accuses Samuel Gompers of war sedition, probably knows precious little of the forces within organized labor which Gompers had to consider. Those forces are still at work for radicalism, and conservatives who score the federation president lend aid and comfort to Bolshevism.

When the Heart Leaps

(From the Montreal Star)

Those who can take no special interest in the regular news may get a big thrill out of reading over the moves in the latest chess game.

For Europe's Starving Children

(Boston Transcript)

Figures just made public giving the results of the campaign conducted by Mr. Herbert Hoover for the European Children's Fund Show that New England did its full share in this work of mercy. It contributed $2,232,000. The total of the fund is $29,000,00. To raise this sum require, of course, great effort, but it is significant that from the early stages of the campaign its success as assured. It goes to show that the heart of America still beats in sympathy with the suffering in other parts of the world.

It is true that there is caution on the part of the public in responding to calls for contributions and it is well that there was a very general feeling that calls for help should be answered unless they were obviously unjustified. It was a time when fear that he might not aid the worthy movement prompted many a man to give, even when in doubt of the wisdom of so doing. That time has now passed, but the success of Mr. Hoover's campaign shows that the willingness and the desire to go to the rescue of the sick and the hungry are so wide spreadand as strong on the part of the American people today as they have been in the past.

Because of the answer made for the call for aid for the little ones of Europe, starvation will not take its toll among them. And should they again be in the same peril, it is a safe prediction that America will again go to the rescue. Fortunately, however, there is reason to believe that, with the gathering of this year's harvests, the danger will be over.

WAR CLOUDS IN EUROPE

(From The Boston Herald)

The possibilities of war in Europe do not become fewer. Portentous clouds darken the prospect of that universal peace for which we fought. We seemed to win it, but it was only the fight we won. Peace itself the world failed to grasp, and the treaties which were meant to make it secure are matters of controversy, excepting only the treaty with Bulgaria. That little country, under apparently honest and sagacious leadership, is working industriously to fulfil her obligations. But what of the other members of the shattered Germanic confederacy? Turkey has refused to ratify the treaty of Sevres, and is fighting Greece for Smyrna, which the treaty declared to be Hellenic territory. Austria signed the treaty of St. Germain, yet she sullenly dissents from the requirement of the treaty that she shall not seek incorporation with Germany. Hungary was supposed to be bound by the same treaty, which distributed the Hapsburg possessions among the nationalities whose they really were, yet the Hungarian government avows that only the fear of allied action deters it from restoring the rule of ex-Emperor Charles.

In the wake of this war cloud there are others. There is ample reason to believe that the Red terror at Moscow is preparing to strike again at Poland, and through Poland at France. No faith can be put in the Russo-Polish treaty signed on March 18, Leon Trotzky having previously stated that the purpose of a peace treaty was merely to gain time for the raising of a mighty army of revenge to take the field in May, and having told the students passing out of the military school in Moscow last week that he contemplated a war of revenge against Poland this summer. What the compact now being negotiated between Moscow and Berlin amounts to it kept secret, but conveyance of munitions through the Kiel canal to the Bolshevists is not impossible. If France entered on the intended German invasion, could she assist Poland? It is hardly likely. She herself would have some assistance in Germany from her allies, but it might not be powerful, Britain being hampered by Mesopotamia, Ireland and her own miners, and Italy being distracted by the fierce conflict between her Nationalists and Communists. A British fleet might steam up to Hamburg, as Premier Briand suggests, but a grave diversion might be called by Trotzky and Kemal together at Constantinople, which the Russians still covet at Russia's southern gate.

The Paramount Five

("A Business Man," in Collier's)

I presume the five most important topics of everyday conversation in this country are first, politics; second, religion; third, sports; fourth, the movies; and fifth, money, but I should say that the five things that a man most frequently think about are first, his family; second, his business or his job; third, his health; fourth, his recreation, and fifth, his investments.

(From the New York World)

Persons with old-fashioned ideas no doubt think that William D. Haywood, the I. W. W. leader, levanted to Russia, to escape a term in Levenworth prison, and that in doing so he flouted the courts and left his fellow prisoners in the lurch.

All this, it seems, is "silly bourgeois prejudice." Haywood, according to the secretary of the Pan-American Agency of the Communist Internationale, did not run away to Russia to desert his fellow workers. He went in answer to a summons from Lenine to become a trusted adviser of the general staff of the World Revolution. And as for "criticising this soldier of the revolution for breaking faith with the capitalist courts. It was his revolutionary duty to obey the summons."

This, of course is all patent enough to the intelligence of communism. It is the Lenine higher morality applied and only hidebound conservatives have to have it explained to them. The I. W. W. leader's faith unfaithful keeps him fairly true to Soviet political principles especially when he can save his skin in the process. Instead of allowing his talent for trouble-making to be submerged in a prison cell, he devotes it to the superior uses of world revolution.

Don't misjudge Comrade Haywood. He has not run away to escape anything, but to fulfill his higher destiny as a propagandist of the Lenine cult of communist transcendentalism.

The Ebb of War Literature

(From the Springfield Union)

A prominent book publisher in New York is credited with saying that the biggest drug on the literary market today is war books. "I'd rather publish something dealing with the Napoleonic wars," he said, "than anything about the late unpleasantness." Such seems to be the general verdict and it is not difficult to find the psychological reasons for it. Just at present the people do not wish to know anything more about a war that for a long period interested them, sometimes desperately. They are tired of it. It is doubtful if the conditions are yet such that it would be possible to say any real new thing about it, certainly anything that would command more than a temporary interest.

But this satiated state of mind will not continue. In another generation and possibly in another decade people will have come to a different point of view. We presume that immediately after the Napoleonic wars the state of mind was much the same as now. The literary appetite that produced the expensive Napoleonic literature did not develop until the psychological state of those who had been in immediate contact with the wars had passed. It is probable that twenty years from now people will be much more eager to read about the late unpleasantness than they are now and there will be more about it worth reading.

SO. AMERICA FEARS THE FORDNEY TARIFF

Buenos Aires, April 26—In their comment on President Harding's address at the recent Bolivar celebration in New York the Buenos Aires newspapers seize upon what they characterize as the apparent contradiction between the desires of the U. S. to cement unity among all the countries of the American continent and her protection policy, as expressed in pending tariff legislation.

Close relations between South and Central America and North America are both natural and desirable, declares the commentators, but the erection of a tariff wall by the U. S. would not only prevent the development of this desire but would go far toward making it impossible of realization, they insist.

While South America, says La Razin sings the Pan-American chorus, "the United States, which is the soloist, is singing a very different song. It thinks the achievements along commercial and moral lines of the past few years towards making the idea a practically reality are in danger of destruction as the result of legislation which it predicts, would bar South America, to a large extent from the U. S. market.

La Nacion praises the "evident sincerity of President Harding's ideas" but regrets that his party has seen fit to take steps that it predicts will have consequences "which to say the least, would lessen the favorable feeling for a greater union and more intimate relations between the people of America."

Marines Decorating

The members of the marine guard are decorating the hall for the concert and ball of the Evelyn Petrie Post, American Legion, to be held on Thursday night. The decorating crew recently did the honors for a recent ball conducted by the guard, and the work spoke for itself. This job for the women will eclipse anything so far undertaken by the artists.

Would Go in the League

Lieut. Laetze, the athletic officer of the marine guard, is building up the material for a good baseball team to represent the barracks. The candidates for the various positions are numerous, and the guard will no doubt have a good bunch of players on the diamond. The manager, as well as the players, would like very much to be in the makeup of the Sunset League and they can guarantee a fast team.

Norfolk, Va., April 26—A message purporting to explain the disappearance of the captain and crew of the schooner Carroll A. Deering, mystery ship of Diamond Shoals, reached coast guard officials here today from Christopher C. Gray of Buxton, N. The message as to the authenticity of which officials expressed no opinion reads:

"Deering captured by oil burning craft. Something like chaser. Taking off everything—cuffing (probably hand cuffing) crew. Crew hiding all over ship. No chance to make escape. Finder please notify (indecipherable) —qts of Deering—(word missing)."

BREAKS OUT OF PRISON AND THEN BREAKS IN AGAIN

Few men who make a get away from prison, turn right around and break into the institution again. "Chippy" Pearson did this act at Rockland, Me., but he gives no explanation for his unheard of conduct.

As a rule, when a man goes to the trouble of sawing off the iron bars which make panels of the window space in his cell and getting away from the jail his chief endeavor is to stay away; to keep as far from that penal establishment as the world's space will permit him. It didn't work that way in Chippel's case. Having demonstrated that he could make the get-away, he proved to the satisfaction of the authorities of the county of Knox that he could get in again, and without assistance.

Detective William H. Kallock, of this city, says that the reason "Chippy" did this was that he had to be doing something.

"He's a quer cuss," is Kallock's way of describing Chippy, whose baptismal name is Arthur Pearson, and whose home is in St. George.

According to the authorities, Pearsons has a mania for taking possessions of boats which do not belong to him, and sailing away in them. He has been arrested a number of times by Detective Kallock. He has already done one jail term of 10 days for stealing a boat, another of 60 days for the same offense, and he is now confined in the county jail awaiting trial on the charge of stealing a yacht at Camden a few weeks ago.

He took this yacht and drove her across Penobscot Bay to Vinal Haven, where he piled her upon Crabtree's ledge, wrecking the yacht beyond all hope of repair.

When Chippy found that his prize was piled high and dry on the ledge, according to Detective Kallock, he wasted no time in leaving the wrecked craft. In his haste to get away, says Kallock, he had not taken a small boat with him, so that the means of getting ashore from the wrecked yacht were limited. Chippy got an empty five-gallon gasoline can, and dumping it overboard, straddled the can and paddled ashore.

He was captured on Vinal Haven by Kallock, and brought back to Rockland.

The Detective says that he is not surprised that Pearsons went ashore in the manner described, as one of the times when he captured the young man he was preparing to escape on two logs, which he had lashed together, and was about to pole out thru the breakers upon them.

TROY POLYTECHNIC CAMPUS DAY

Troy, N. Y., April 26—Campus Day, an innovation of unusual interest, will be observed at the Renselaer Polytechnic Institute Saturday, May 28. The authorities of Troy Polytechnic, the oldest engineering school in the country has invited male students and instructors of high schools and preparatory schools generally to visit the Institute on that date and the preceding or following night, when accommodations will be provided free in either the fraternity houses or dormitories. A scientific school presents so much in the way of unusual scientific apparatus and interesting equipment that the big laboratories and all the buildings—in fact—including the big testing machinery of the Sage laboratory, the modern mechanical and electrical devices, departments of chemistry, water analysis, aeronautics, wireless telegraphy an dthe like—will be open to inspection and will be explained by the professors and instructors in charge. Following these morning inspection a luncheon will be served and there will be an afternoon of athletics including a baseball game and intercollegiate track meet with Rochester University teams and a tennis match with Middlebury college of Vermont, besides a special institute gay carnival.

FINE LECTURE ON WHITE HILLS

"The White Mountains" was the subject of a fine illustrated lecture given by Rev. E. S. Philbrook of Massachusetts at the Middle Street Baptist church on Tuesday evening. Every seat was filled and all felt highly pleased.

Rev. Mr. Philbrook was here some weeks ago and gave an illustrated lecture on "Maine, the Pine Tree State," which was most entertaining and all who heard him knew they would again have a rare treat. He gave vivid descriptions of the pictures and over 75 beautiful views, mostly colored, were thrown on the screen last evening. Those who had visited the White Mountains felt they were there again, so true to nature were the views, while others felt a treat was in store for them on their first visit to the "White Hills." The cloud effects were especially beautiful in some of the pictures.

The new church stereopticon was used and the special long distance lenses gave the pictures unusual brilliance when used with the powerful 1,000 watt lamp.

The lecturer showed views of Mt. Washington by way of the Bridle Trail and the Mount Washington Railroad, the Great Gulf, Tuckerman's Ravine, and the Lakes of the Clouds, wonderful views of the Cascades, the Elephant's Head, the Pool, the Flume, and the Old Man of the Mountains. We viewed the approaches to the great mountains, Chocorua, Dixville Notch, and the Sandwich Range.

Mr. Philbrook is an excellent speaker and his descriptions of the views gave much interest to each one.

Every one was invited to attend, a collection being taken to pay the expenses. It is planned to have a lecture of this sort at the Middle Street Baptist church occasionally and give the public an opportunity to hear something well worth while.

COOKS BY SUN'S HEAT ALONE

Washington, April 27.—Advantages of the old sol cook stove, operated 24 hours a day on sun heat alone, were explained to the National Academy of Sciences here Tuesday by Dr. C. G. Abbott of the Smithsonian Institution.

The device was as yet a luxury, he admitted, but added that Mrs. Abbott had done everything but fry on the solar cook stove at Mt. Wilson, Calif. He displayed a can of beans, saying they were solar cook stove canned, looked good and "tasted better."

The apparatus, Dr. Abbott said, was a "concave, parabolic, cylindric reflector," through which ran a tube of ordinary cylinder oil to absorb heat from the reflector and apply it to the cooking compartment, insulation retaining heat in the oil over night. Cooking temperatures were automatically regulated by a float device," he said, while a simple clock work mechanism kept the reflectors pointed to the sun.

Deploring the impairment to science "through the action of political misfortune," Prof. Albert Einstein, propounder of the theory of relativity, speaking in German, expressed the hope "that the field of activity of scientific men may be reunited" and that the whole world will soon again be bound together by common work."

The scientist in acknowledging a tribute paid him by Pres. Charles D. Walcott, said the appreciation embarrassed him. "When a man after long years of searching," he said, "chances upon a thought which discloses something of the beauty of this mysterious universe he should not, therefore, be personally celebrated. He is already sufficiently paid by his experience of seeking and finding."

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Last evening, at the Y. W. C. A. Hall, Mrs. Florence Gilbert Hanscom, of Newcastle, completely charmed her audience with her attractive personality and her ability to interpret so vividly the different peoples and localities of her folk-songs. Mrs. Hanscom was assisted by an accomplished pianist, Miss Mary Bellow, also by Mr. William Guptill, a violinist of remarkable talent. Mrs. Hanscom's monologues were a delight to all, for her ability to transform her voice and manner, made her impersonation of characters and events to vividly pass before the eyes of her audience. Mrs. Hanscom's rich full soprano voice, combined with her artistic endowments and attractive personality, always wins favor with her audiences. The following was her program as presented:

"One Spring Morning" .... Nevin
"The Rosary" .... Nevin

MY AUTO, 'TIS OF THEE

My auto, 'tis of thee, short road to poverty—of thee I chant. I blew a pile of dough on you three years ago; now you refuse to go—or won't or can't. Through town and country side you were my joy and pride, a happy day. I loved thy gaudy hue, the nice white tires new; but you're down and out for true, in every way. To thee, old rattlebox, came many bumps and knocks; for thee I grieve. Badly thy top is torn; frayed are thy seats and worn; the whooping cough affects thy horn, I do believe. Thy perfume swells the breeze, while good folks choke and wheeze, as we pass by. I paid for thee a price 'twould buy a mansion twice; now everybody's yelling "ice"—I wonder why. Thy motor has the grip, thy spark plug has the pip, and woe is thine. I, too, have suffered chills, fatigue and kindred ills, endeavoring to pay my bills, since thou were mine. Gone is my bank roll now, no more 'twould choke a cow, as once before. Yet, if I had the mon', so help me, John—amen, I'd buy a car again and speed some more.

WARNER SAYS NO POLITICS IN SUBWAY BILL

(By Asociated Press)

Boston, April 27.—Charges that the bill for the purchase by the state of the Cambridge subway was passed by the 1919 legislature under improper political pressure were denied today by Joseph Warner, former speaker of the house.

JAP. GENERAL A SUICIDE

(By Associated Press)

Tokio, April 27.—Lt. Gen. Saito, commander-in-chief of the eleventh Japanese division at Vladivostok, committed suicide on Monday, his death being a sequel to the shooting of Naval Lieut. W. H. Langdon in that city early in January, say newspapers of the city. He is said to have either held himself responsible for the death of Lieut. Langdon or to have been irritated by what he believed was the weakness of the Japanese government in dealing with the incident.

HARDING MAY VISIT PACIFIC

Washington, April 26.—A vacation trip to the Pacific Coast for President Harding late this fall is being urged by some of his friends and it is understood to be receiving considerable consideration. The President is said to have indicated that if he finds opportunity for a vacation this year he will spend it in the northwest.

The northwestern trip first was suggested as a part of a trip to Alaska, but it has been indicated that the President has little hope of getting that far away during the present summer.

The Prince of Monaco made a formal exchange of official visits yesterday with President Harding. The prince was received at the White House with all the ceremony that always attends upon the formal call of a foreign potentate and afterwards Mr. Harding drove to the distinguished visitor's hotel nearby and returned the call.

The theory of relativity of matter which got into the senate debate recently with assertions by senators Boise Penrose, John Sharp Williams and others that they did not understand it, also has vanquished President Harding. Its originator, Dr. Einstein, called on Mr. Harding yesterday.

Ellis Lewis Garretson, imperial potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of North America, is enroute to Washington to present to President Harding a gold life membership card in Afifi Temple, the Tacoma Shrine body and to urge the President to spend his summer vacation in the northwest.

A chair made from a rib of the Revenge, one of the first American warships, will be presented to President Harding by fellow publishers throughout the United States. Ernest F. Birmingham, editor of the Fourth Estate, who has been collecting subscriptions of $1 each, says, the donors desire President Harding to have a cabinet chair of his own which he can take to Marion, O., when he retires to private life. They regard it as a glorification of the "editorial chair" which he occupied for a quarter of a century. The Revenge was sunk in Lake Champlain by the British in October, 1776, and raised in 1909 from the Lake bed. The hull is now at Ticonderoga, N. Y., where the old fort is being constructed by Mr. A. P. Pell of New York.

"Springing to Arms Over Night"

(From the Detroit Free Press)

The Japanese hasten to protest that there is no significance in the general call to the colors of all able bodied men. Presumably the movement is a little spring exercise to warm the blood.

Mr. Edmund C. Tarbell and family have arrived at their home in New Castle for the summer, making the trip from their winter home in Washington by auto. Mr. Tarbell, who is painting a portrait of Herbert Hoover in Washington, will return there next week to complete the picture.

HARDING TO VIEW FLEET THURSDAY

Newport News, April 26.—Hotels in the Hampton Roads cities are filled with relatives of officers and men of the fleet whose vanguard already is anchored in the roads and the main body of which is expected to pass within the Capes today.

Orders have been issued by the commandant of the Fifth Naval District to regulate anchorage of merchant ships in Hampton Roads during inspection of the fleet by President Harding and Secretary of the Navy Denby, which will take place at 9 o'clock Thursday morning.

BRUNSWICK, ME., FIREMEN SPEND A BUSY DAY

Brunswick, Me., April 27.—The Brunswick Fire Department was kept busy Tuesday. A call at 5.35 Tuesday morning summoned Chemical 1 to Popham, where the buildings occupied by Samuel C. Curtis and Walter H. Curtis were afire. The house and barn valued at $6000 were totally destroyed.

At 2.35 Tuesday afternoon a call was received for a fire on the roof of a large barn owned by David E. Moulton on the Portland road. Firemen with three pieces of motor apparatus were sent out, and for more than four hours fought the flames. The barn, which was valued at $2000 was saved but the roof was burned off.

NAVY TO SEE EPAULETS AND COCKED HAT AGAIN

Washington, April 27.—After having reposed with moth balls for a number of years, the principal articles of dress uniforms, formerly worn in the navy, were restored to use yesterday by an order of Secretary Denby. It authorizes the wearing, on stated occasions, of the frock coat, full dress trousers, cocked hat, dress sword and sword belt and epaulets. Special full dress, dinner dress and mess dress uniforms were not restored.

For officers of and above the rank of lieutenant commander the order becomes effective July 1, the theory being that these officers already own the articles. The younger officers will be given until May 1, 1922, to acquire the equipment.

HIGH SCHOOL EXPECT HARD GAME SAT.

The High school baseball team had a good afternoon's practice on Tuesday in preparation for the game on Saturday with Nashua High. The team is being handled this week by Henry Cragen while Athletic Director Sowle is on his vacation. Cragen is pushing the team hard to get hem in shape for the game with Nashua, as this is one of the important games.

Next week the team will play two games, on Wednesday, Berwick Academy, which always has a good baseball team and on Saturday the Farmington High.

The team has a very fine schedule, in fact the best one laid out for the team for some years.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S DANCING PARTY

A dancing party is to be held this evening at the Rockingham hotel for the young people of the Country club and their guests. The dance was originally arranged for Friday evening, but as it would interfere with the annual meeting of the New Hampshire Hotel Men's Association, it was decided to change the date.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSES MEET

The Association of Public Health Nurses of Southern New Hampshire and Maine held their Portsmouth meeting at the Woman's City Club on Saturday afternoon. Miss Gladys Byron, district nurse of Portsmouth, was the hostess. After the business of the meeting, Dr. Helen I. D. McGillicuddy, in charge of the United States Social Hygiene Board, Field Service, New Hampshire, spoke on the "Problem of Venereal Diseases in Its Relation to Public Health." As most of the nurses present, as well as their problems, are known to Dr. McGillicuddy, a very interesting and helpful discussion followed. Luncheon was served, Miss Agnes Halidia and Miss Mary Lyons assisting the hostess. This was followed by a musical hour and dancing.

Mrs. F. S. Towle, Mrs. G. Peyser and Miss A. Berry assisted Miss Byron in preparing the luncheon, while Miss Brown presided at the piano. Those present were: Mrs. A. B. Provost, Dover, president; Miss M. Moran, Dover, secretary; Miss Francis Hyde, Dover; Miss E. McManus, Dover; Miss Frances Eastman, Rochester; Miss M. M'Creal, Somersworth; Miss A. Collishaw, Salmon Falls; Miss M. Gallagher, Hartford, Conn.; Miss M. Leach, Portsmouth; Miss Gladys Byron, Portsmouth; Mrs. Julius Mason, Portsmouth.

TO HOLD GOLF TOURNAMENT SATURDAY

The opening golf tournament at the Country club which was to have been held on Saturday last but which was postponed by the heavy rain, will be held on Saturday of this week. The permanent greens are now in operation and all of the holes are open to play. The fairway is coming along fast and will probably have to be cut next week, a full month ahead of previous years.

There is a great deal of golf being played this year and every indication points to this being the banner golf year of not only this city, but the country.

BIG GATHERING OF MASONS AT NASHUA

There will be a large number of Masons go to Nashua on Thursday for the annual New Hampshire Consistory for the 32d degree. This is an annual event and it is one of the big Masonic gatherings of the entire state for the year.

N. H. CHECKER PLAYERS TO MEET

"Chess and Checker fans from all sections of New Hampshire are preparing to turn out at the Annual Meeting and Tournament of the New Hampshire Chess and Checker Asso. to be held on Fast Day at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. in Concord.

In point of interest and attendance it is expected that this tournament will be the most successful that has ever been conducted in this state. As all the players are classified according to ability the meet will be interesting to everyone—from novice just learning his way across the board to the seasoned veteran who knows all the traps and pitfalls.

The Secretary of the Association has sent out one hundred invitations but every chess and checker player in the state is cordially invited to join the association and to attend the annual tournaments which are held on Fast Day of each year.

Willis G. Hill, the International Checker player who played on the American team against the British team in the last International Tournament is expected to be present.

Charles Williams of Nashua, who during his Princeton College days gained an international reputation as a Chess player by playing on the team composed of representatives from the American Colleges which played a match by cable with a like representation from English colleges is to enter the tourney for the championship of the state.

Lawrence P. Carr of Andover who ranked second in Chess while in Harvard University and George L. Flanders the present state champion are other players whose chances for the cup are excellent with the odds favoring Williams because of his intricate knowledge of the game. In all nearly twenty players are expected to contend for the championship in chess.

About fifty checker players are to play for the State Checker Championship including Harry D. Rollins of Alexandria, the present champion, W. W. Hill of North Sutton and Jos. W. Hill of Tilton, ex-champions. There will be classes for all with various other prizes.

At 7 p. m. Willard E. Davis, Champion Checker Player of Massachusetts will start simultaneous play on 30 boards or over meeting all comers. During the evening he will also play six players simultaneously in a blindfold exhibition.

This feature is a novelty to most players as very few experts are capable of such extreme mental concentration.

GASOLINE 20c IN CHICAGO

The new price of gasoline in Chicago, 20 cents a gallon wholesale, is a decrease of 7 cents a gallon since first of the year and is the lowest price in that city in the last four years. Standard Oil Company of Indiana is the largest marketer of gasoline in the United States and one of biggest purchasers of Mid-Continent crude oil. It is thought probable eastern refineries will follow the Indiana company by reducing prices in the near future. Eastern prices are down an average of only five cents from the first of the year.

YOUNG LAD PULLS IN FALSE ALARM

A young Italian lad, age 10 years, pining for excitement, pulled in a general alarm from Box 15 at the corner of Dennett and Thornton streets shortly before five o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, giving the department a long run. The little fellow evidently did not know what he was doing when he opened the box and pulled the hook. He was taken to the police station and given a talking to and his parents warned to impress on the lad the danger of such practice.

On the way back from the alarm, the auto engine, driven by the veteran driver, John Ham, collided with a wagon owned by Harry Pace of Newington. The wagon was badly wrecked and the headlights of the engine were smashed. The accident happened on Vaughan street near Hill street.

NAVAL BILL HELD UP IN THE HOUSE

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 27—After an all day fight on disarmament the house quit tonight without reaching a vote on the naval bill and there are a number of members anxious to air their views on the bill. There was pending an amendment offered by Representative Connally of Texas, democrat, that "no part of the appropriation should go into new construction until President Harding had called an international conference on disarmament". A similar amendment was offered at the last session and defeated five to one and leaders predict that it will receive the same treatment tomorrow.

HOUSING PROBLEM BEFORE CONG.

Washington, April 26—A division of housing is proposed in a bill approved by President Harding and sponsored by Secretary of Commerce Herbert A. Hoover which was introduced concurrently today by Senator Calder of New York and Congressman George Holden Tinkham of Massachusetts. It is a revision of the measure originally introduced by Mr. Tinkham July 8, 1919. It proposes to put the new division in the Bureau of Standards under the administration of the secretary of commerce and to turn over to it all the construction and housing data collected by the United States housing corporation, the emergency fleet corporation, and the special commission on housing, headed by Senator Calder, which, last year, made a tour of industrial centers securing first hand information as to housing needs.

"Absolute cessation of home building for five years has brought the country into a serious situation which Secretary Hoover has recognized," said Mr. Tinkham. "This was caused by the war conditions, the need for materials in other lines, the shortage of transportation, the great increase in prices of building materials, the labor famine and the need for money in other lines."

Mr. Tinkham emphasized that out of scores of government bureaus, divisions and agencies for the collection and diffusion of knowledge along many lines, not one comes as close to the needs of the people as the vital question of housing. He said the building business involves annually an expenditure of several billion dollars and the employment of 2,000,000 to 3,000,000. Several hundred trades are involved.

The purpose of the housing division proposed by the bill is to gather the best information on the housing problem and to disseminate such of the information as may be helpful to the people needing homes and to those engaged in the building industry.

The scope of statistical and technical data to be gathered follows:

Improved practices in the construction work in the United States and foreign countries.

Standardization of structural units and materials.

Economy in the use of building materials.

Economy in methods of manufacturing and distribution.

Plant capacity, production and stock on hand, imports and exports from month to month.

Transportation facilities and freight rates, fuel and labor costs, for building materials.

Losses through irregularity of operation.

Fluctuations in prices from month to month.

Monthly bank loans for building purposes.

Methods of financing home building.

City planning, zoning, housing standards and slum elimination, rents, etc.

Greater uniformity in building codes.

"The plan," said Mr. Tinkham, "is to make the new federal division a clearing house for information that will net real economy in the construction industry and bring about efficient co-ordination of the related activities. My original bill indorsed by the Calder commission, failed of passage in the last congress because of the rush of passing necessary appropriation bill and other immediately impressive legislation. The new bill is assured of preferential consideration, and, with the backing of the administration, its passage will be expedited."

STORM CENTER OVER WELFARE DEPARTMENT

Washington, April 27—Plans for creation of a new Federal Department of Public Welfare, though still in a formative stage, have already aroused enough opposition to indicate that President Harding will have much work to do before whipping the project into final shape.

The matter was up Tuesday, both at the Cabinet meeting and at a conference between Samuel Gompers and other officials of the American Federation of Labor, and Sec. Davis and Brig. Gen. Sawyer, Mr. Harding's personal representative in welfare department preliminary studies.

The labor men objected to transfer of the children's and women's bureau of the Department of Labor to the proposed new department, and the Cabinet meeting was said to have developed a difference of opinion as to what should be done with Federal educational agencies.

It was indicated that no conclusion was reached by Mr. Harding and his advisers and that the President planned to confer with Administration officials and members of Congress.

BUDGET BILL PASSED BY THE SENATE

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 27—Without a record vote the senate today passed the budget bill after debate was given the bill which was introduced by Sen. McCormick and passed by both the senate and house at the last session and vetoed by President Wilson and then repassed by the house after the objectionable clause had been stricken out. The senate, however, did not get to the bill before congress adjourned. The bill will now go to the house where speedy action will be taken. The bill provides for a budget bureau in the treasury department. The bureau head is to be appointed by the president with the approval of the senate and be paid $10,000 a year.

STILL RAID REVEALS CLOTH THEFT

North Attleboro, April 26—Queeno Zambroni was arrested Monday night on a charge of larceny of cloth from the Arnold Print Works, where he is employed. The police also took into custody Mrs. Adella Grifonia on a charge of receiving stolen goods.

The police Saturday night raided the home of Mrs. Grifonia in search of contraband liquor. They found the liquor and also several hundred yards of cloth, they say. Inspector Matthew Henderson and foreman John Eastwood of the Arnold Print Works identified the cloth as the product of that plant.

The police assert that when Zambroni was searched at the police station 28 yards of cloth were found in his dinner basket. Zambroni was for some time a boarder at Mrs. Grifonia's home. The police claim Mrs. Grifonia accepted the cloth from Zambroni in exchange for board and room.

ARGENTINE BOYCOTT HANGS

Buenos Aires, April 26—Immediate resumption of conferences between U. S. Consular and embassy officials and the Argentine government relative to the affairs of the boycott against the Munson liner Martha Washington, is not anticipated in this city. Efforts on the part of American representatives to induce the government either to nullify the Dock Workers' boycott or to require union labor to unload the vessel have been futile. The only solution offered by the Argentine government is arbitration between the Dock Workers' union and the American consulate, which plan has been rejected by the consulate.

AT CITY HALL

The practice of throwing waste in front of business houses on Congress, Market, Islington, State and other streets in the business section should be discouraged. Why not instruct your store porter or boy to sweep up in front of your store, especially the evening before holidays or Sundays. Aid the city in trying to have the cleanest city in New England. This policy could be followed by all residents. Teach the boys to aid in this movement.

If you see any suspicious men in your neighborhood notify the police. Help the police in their work.

Have you paid that poll tax yet? Why not get it out of the way?

Present day state road construction has proven a failure and a waste of good money.

The street department force is doing the side streets with gravel and with good effect.

LIGHTS BLIND THE DRIVER AND CAR GOES IN DITCH

Touring Car Wrecked on the Dover Point Road.

An automobile said to be owned by John D. McDonough of this city was found out of commission near Ford's Crossing on the Dover Point road.

The Dover police investigated and found that the accident was caused by the lights of another car blinding Mr. McDonough so that he drove too near the ditch and went over the embankment.

It was a fortunate thing that no one in the car was injured. The car however was so badly damaged that it could not run on its own power and was towed back to Portsmouth.

Solid Comfort and Satisfaction

The home attractively furnished is one of the real joys of mature womanhood.

Comfortable rockers, attractive tables, pretty lamps and rugs of pleasing design and colorings—all help to make the home worth while.

The lamps seen at Margeson Brothers, whether floor, table or boudoir lamps, have real claims to beauty. Mahogany and wrought iron are used principally for the bases and they are artistic and graceful in design.

The shades of these lamps are wonderfully beautiful. Some are of silk of different colors, of dome, pagoda, canopy and other shapes heavily trimmed with silk fringe and gold galoons. The linings are often of rose colored silk, because of such it casts a soft, becoming glow over the room. Hand painted parchment shades are used on floor and table lamps.

MAN ARRESTED HERE ASSAULTS WIFE WITH AXE

Gave Himself Up to Police and Told Them of His Act.

Anthony Conrad, the man whom the local police picked up in this city a short time ago, after he had jumped from a moving passenger train near Biddeford, is held by the Boston police for assault on his wife with an axe. The wound on her head is expected to cause her death. She is in the Boston Relief Hospital. The assault occurred at their home, 349 Charles street.

Conrad seized the hatchet, struck his wife, and as she fell to the floor unconscious he left the room, and going into Charles street, met Patrolmen Sweeney and Carney, to whom he told what he had done and gave himself up.

The officers went to the room, and found the woman unconscious and bleeding.

It is said the man who, according to his own statement and the report among neighbors, has been home only two weeks after spending some time in a state hospital in New Hampshire, was jealous of his wife.

At the time the local police had this man in charge, Chief Hurley communicated with the Boston police and his wife, and it was several days before he was released. His wife refused to come to Portsmouth, or direct that he be sent to the home, as she feared her life would be in danger. When arrested in Boston, he was booked under the name of Antonio Kondritiuk, with the same address as the local police had when he was located on Congress st. hunting for a lawyer.
